PRESS RELEASE

Linda Liporto named LeftField's Director of Interiors

LeftField's Growth Continues

Boston, July 20, 2021: LeftField, an Owner's Project Management firm, is pleased to announce the addition of Linda Liporto, named LeftField's Director of Interiors.

In this role, Linda is responsible for leading a team of project managers while helping grow the firm's interior renovation presence through strategic initiatives. While Linda has been involved in construction most of her life, dating back to her technical school years in Sweden, she most recently worked as Principal for a reputable Boston-based Construction Management firm where she took part in growing them from 3 employees to an impressive 90. Linda brings 20 years of experience in the construction industry and LeftField is thrilled to have her leading the Interiors group.

“Linda has made a significant impact in the industry as a woman in construction and has been a major inspiration to others seeking to build their career in construction and management. We couldn’t be more fortunate to have someone like her on our team.” – Jim Rogers, Founder of LeftField

When Linda’s not hanging out with her “amazingly-awesome-almost-13-year-old-daughter” (a quote her daughter humbly contributed to this article), she’s spending her free time renovating houses, practicing yoga and painting. Linda moved to the States from Sweden over 25 years ago, speaks 5 languages, and loves graphic design.
